

Arrrrrg! Love me Pirate101 but i've had "TROUBLE"!

Dr. Zeppers, Friday 24 July 2015 - 02:10:00

Ahoy mateys!

Yes, Dr Zeppers still lives. I know things have been real stagnant, my pirate time has been waning, not enough time in the day. I have kept our beloved Pirate101, and all my great pirate friends and fans close to heart, and always on my mind, just little time to exercise it. One of the pluses on this is that I have accumulated a mass of wonderful treasures (codes) to share with everyone, so keep your eyes open for a new song soon... although it may sound a little like the video I am about so share with you. ;)

Besides that daily job that pays the bills, my spare time has been dealing alot with my involvement in community theater. After Charlie Brown, I was in "The King and I" singing love songs as "Lun Tha" the burmese ambassador. And more recently and requiring ALOT of work, I played the role of "Professor Harold Hill" in "The Music Man". A fast talking traveling salesman/con artist selling bands to the various communities, selling band instruments, instruction books, and uniforms, then skating out of town with all the money he collected without following through with teaching the kids to play, forming and organizing the band.

Here is a clip of me singing "Trouble" near the start of the show. I am trying to convince the town that they have TROUBLE, in which case in scenes to follow I convince them a band is the way to solve the problem.

Trouble!

I have variation of "Trouble" in pirate form, just seem to be a little snafu'd on video production which is holding things up. Those Pirate101 treasures have been accumulating, and I want to spread me plunder amongst ye all as soon as possible.

Please keep an eye open for Ole... Dr. Zeppers